

SLIDING WINDOWS LOOKBOOK

Inspiration without limits.

TAKING "CLOSE TO NATURE" TO A WHOLE NEW LEVEL

Sliding windows

PROJECT
Summer house | Denmark

SOLUTION
cero III

THE POSSIBILITIES ARE ENDLESS

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Leipzig, Germany

SOLUTION

zero III

*“Bright, open and spacious!
We want our home to be somewhere where we feel free to grow – and we wanted the building itself to reflect that, too. The large glass surfaces lend every room an open, unrestricted feel.
It’s just how we imagined it.”*

THE VOGT FAMILY

BLEND INSIDE AND OUTSIDE INTO ONE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | The Hague, Netherlands

SOLUTION

cero III

“We spent a long time looking for a way of making the transition from inside to the outdoors smooth, with no threshold at all. We also wanted to get as much daylight as humanly possible into our home. Now we have all that – thanks to our almost invisible window solution.”

THE KEIJER FAMILY

SEAMLESS
TRANSITIONS
Sliding windows

PROJECT
Detached house | Hamburg, Germany

SOLUTION
cero III

IMPRESSIVE TRANSPARENCY

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Zwolle, Netherlands

SOLUTION

cero III

LIFE WITH A VIEW OF THE LAKE

Sliding windows

PROJECT
Detached house | Freiburg, Germany

SOLUTION
cero III

“We wanted to be able to see our surroundings from every side of the building, while also letting as much light as possible into the space. We managed to achieve this using the cero sliding window – a unique and beautiful solution for us.”

THE STEIN FAMILY

A GATEWAY TO THE WILDERNESS

Sliding windows

PROJECT
Detached house | West Virginia, USA

SOLUTION
cero III

AN URBAN SENSE OF LIVING

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Penthouse apartment | Chicago, USA

SOLUTION

cero II

USE THE HEIGHT OF THE SPACE, CREATE SPECTACULAR VIEWS

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | London, UK

SOLUTION

cero II

MODERN, UNIQUE AND FLOODED WITH LIGHT

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Cologne, Germany

SOLUTION

zero II

“When we started out, we didn’t realise just how much a large sliding window could change the vibe of the whole room. But now we’ve got it, we would give up that sense of space and openness for anything.”

THE BECK FAMILY

MINIMALISTIC ELEGANCE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Apartment building | Berlin, Germany

SOLUTION

zero III

A SEAMLESS CONNECTION

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Théâtre Maillon | Strasbourg, France

SOLUTION

cero III

EYE-CATCHING GLAZING

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Office building | Kösching, Germany

SOLUTION

cero III

PHOTOGRAPHER

Maximilian Gottwald

A SPECIAL BLEND OF OLD AND NEW

PROJECT

Detached house | Henstedt-Ulzburg, Germany

SOLUTION

cero III

“Right from the start, we incorporated all our ideas into the planning process. As a result, we now have exactly the home we’ve always dreamed of – sleek, elegant, and something truly special.”

THE BERGMANN FAMILY

UNRESTRICTED VIEWS

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Lake Constance, Germany

SOLUTION

zero III

“We wanted to be able to see the lake from as many different positions as possible. That’s what gave our architect the idea of setting the glass elements back a little, rather than placing them right at the edge of the building.”

THE JUNG FAMILY

MODERN ELEGANCE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Leicester, UK

SOLUTION

zero I

“Our rooms are bright, modern and understated. The generous glass front facing out onto the garden complements this concept perfectly. Wherever you are in the room, you’ve always got an unobstructed view of the outdoors – it’s perfect for us.”

KATE AND STUART ANDREWS

JAW-DROPPING RELAXATION

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Spa pavilion | Vienna, Austria

SOLUTION

cero III

ARCHITECT

Smartvoll Architekten

PHOTOGRAPHER

Dimitar Gamizov

SO CLOSE TO NATURE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Hamburg, Germany

SOLUTION

Sliding windows | cero III

LIVING IN STYLE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Lake Millstatt, Austria

SOLUTION

zero III

“We wanted our home to be a peaceful place with plenty of straight lines – not too many frills. The style of the room speaks for itself. The dashes of colour add a touch of cosiness, while our large sliding window lends the whole room a feeling of incredible beauty.”

THE GRUBERS

SPACIOUS AND OPEN

Sliding windows

PROJECT
Detached house | Nottinghamshire, UK

SOLUTION
zero II

BRINGING AN UNUSUAL DESIGN TO LIFE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Hong Kong

SOLUTION

cero I

FOR MORE ATMOSPHERE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Oldendorf, Germany

SOLUTION

zero III

HIGH ARCHITECTURAL COUTURE

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Spa area | Leipzig, Germany

SOLUTION

cero III

“In order to make sure we were close to our natural surroundings, I decided to use glass elements with as few breaks as possible. This allows me to open the room up to the outdoors in many different ways, even completely removing the corners.”

KERSTIN BALDAUF

EXTRAORDINARY STYLE

Sliding windows

PROJECT
Detached house | Starnberg Lake, Germany

SOLUTION
cero III

FOR CREATIVE FREEDOM

Wintergarden with sliding window

PROJECT

Detached house | Krakow, Poland

SOLUTION

SDL Avalis, cero III

MERGING THE INTERIOR WITH THE OUTDOORS

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Krakow, Poland

SOLUTION

zero III

MODERN FACADE DESIGN

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Schwielowsee, Germany

SOLUTION

cero III

SIMPLY SPECIAL

Sliding windows

PROJECT

Detached house | Black Forest, Germany

SOLUTION

zero III

